

Respiratory Patient Initiated Follow-Up (PIFU) – Lung Fibrosis

Other formats

You have been given a Patient Initiated Follow-Up (PIFU) appointment in the respiratory service because your condition is currently very stable but may flare up in the future.

What does PIFU mean?

PIFU means that you do not need to be seen by us regularly. Fibrosis can be stable for long periods of time and it is not necessary for you to come and see us when you are well. However, if your condition worsens or becomes unstable then it would be appropriate for us to see you to offer advice and further treatment.

Having a PIFU appointment means you can contact us if you think we need to see you and we should also be able to see you more quickly.

What symptoms would mean I needed to come back to the respiratory clinic?

We would want to see you if:

- your breathing has quickly become worse and your GP doesn't think it is caused by a chest infection
- you have noticed that you are getting more breathless, slowly over time.

How do I contact the hospital to get an appointment?

There are two ways to contact us:

1. Complete the 'Respiratory PIFU appointment' form on our Northern Devon Healthcare NHS Trust website:

www.northdevonhealth.nhs.uk/services/respiratory-service/open-respiratory-appointment-required/

or

2. Call the respiratory secretary on 01271 349589
