What is Patient-Initiated Follow-Up (PIFU)?

Patient-initiated follow-up (PIFU) puts you, the patient, in control of when you are seen by the community rehabilitation team. It means spending less time attending hospital appointments, but still gives you access to clinical support when you need it.

If your condition is stable, you may not find it helpful to have scheduled appointments or visits by the community rehabilitation team. Sometimes, these appointments may not result in any change to your treatment, but you'll have spent time and energy putting arrangements in place to your appointment. Your condition may flare up in between regular booked appointments and it's at this point that you really do need our input. With PIFU, you can get advice from your clinical team, who may suggest an appointment is required.

You initiate the follow-up appointment, instead of the hospital, which is why this process is called patient-initiated follow-up (PIFU).

For all other concerns not relating to your community rehabilitation input, or if you are feeling unwell, your GP will remain your first point of contact.

How will I know if I'm suitable for PIFU?

The community rehabilitation team will tell you if your condition is now suitable for PIFU, instead of regular appointments scheduled by the team.

It is entirely your decision. You can continue with regular appointments if you want to. Your clinician will have advised you about the PIFU process and given you this patient leaflet to support you.

When should I call for a PIFU?

You should call if you experience a change of your symptoms.

PIFU is not a replacement for urgent medical advice. If you require urgent medical advice, you should contact your GP, NHS 111, your local walk-in centre or, if you are really unwell, your local Emergency Department (A&E).

How will I book a patient-initiated appointment?

This is a quick and easy process.

If you have a change of your symptoms and need advice or an appointment, just follow the steps below and the team will help you.

5 easy steps:

1. Call or email the community rehabilitation team (9am – 4pm)

Community rehabilitation team name and contact details:

Email address: -----

(Please note – if using email to contact the team, place PIFU in the subject title)

If you need to leave a message when you call, please leave the following information:

- Your full name and date of birth
 - Your hospital number and/or NHS number
 - A telephone number so we can call you back during our opening hours
2. Explain to the community rehabilitation team you are having a fluctuation or a change in your symptoms and need some clinical advice.
 3. The team will review your concerns and decide whether you need immediate clinical advice for your symptoms or if you need an appointment.

Will you still be looking after me if I'm on PIFU and don't initiate an appointment?

Whilst you are on PIFU, we will have agreed with you either a time frame for a discharge or follow up appointment.

We retain clinical oversight of your treatment and interventions provided by our service during this agreed time frame. You can contact the team (as directed above) if you have any concerns or if you have fluctuating or changing needs during this period.

What if I am worried and change my mind about this style of follow-up?

Just tell us and we will go back to booking regular hospital appointments for you. Our team are happy to discuss any concerns with you.
